

DAY OF REAL JOY FOR ALL

ducted the party down the road and stated in no uncertain language, their indebtedness for the pleasure given them.

To make the trip more happy the management of the road provided two quintette clubs which took turns in furnishing music.

SENDING MAIL HOME.

The soldier boys were given possession of the Senate and Representative halls in the Executive building yesterday. They lost no time in writing letters to the dear ones they left behind. Supplies of stationery and postage stamps were placed at their disposal.

Representative Richards, of Hilo, is temporary postmaster. Just 406 letters were dropped into the mail bag in the lower house alone. Some of the boys were so pleased with their reception that they read to Mr. Richards extracts in their letters. Senator Rice was postmaster in the upper branch.

A large number of letters were written from the Y. M. C. A. and from the office of E. R. Adams.

EXECUTIVE RECEPTION.

The visiting army and navy officers were callers at the Executive building at noon yesterday. They were accompanied by American Minister Sewall. Minister of Foreign Affairs Cooper presented the visitors to the President and other Cabinet Ministers.

Those in the party included Captain Glass, of the U. S. S. Charleston; Captain Nichols, of the U. S. S. Bennington; General Anderson and staff and the volunteer officers.

HEAVY TRAVEL.

E. C. Winston and Geo. A. Davis were masters of transportation yesterday afternoon. They handled fifteen tram cars and three busses at the corner of Fort and King. These moving containers carried about 650 boys in Blue for Waikiki and the baseball grounds. The boys enjoyed the ball game and were delighted with the surf bathing. A good many of them walked in the park and listened to the concert of the National band. The trail of the Boys in Blue could be followed from town to Waikiki by the banana skins, pineapple peelings, mango seeds and coconut husks.

CRICKET.

It is known that there are a number of cricketers aboard the troop ships and an effort, unfortunately unsuccessful, was made yesterday to get up a match. As the time of the men today will be taken up with the entertainment provided them by the city, there will be no further attempt at arranging a match.

THIS DAY AND DATE.

Capt. Ashley, director-general of the loan bureau, will be the big man ashore today and will have a staff and force that will make him the envy of every commander in the port. Why, there has been listed for a week 150 volunteer waitresses.

The feast will be given on the grounds of the Executive Building. This will be the principal event of the day. Meal hours are 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. It may be necessary to have an extension of time. Gen. Anderson will scarcely object. While this is to be an open air arrangement or function, it will be no picnic. Every man is to be given, what they call in "United States language" a "square meal." The 2500 men, excepting 100 guards of each ship, will come ashore in two parties. This is for the transports. The Charleston and Bennington men are included in the invitation. Food will be taken to the men on duty. Capt. Ashley has quite a contract on his hands.

The other entertainment for today will consist of amusements at Waikiki and the town boat houses again. Kamehameha sports, music and Bishop Museum again and carte blanche use of the Tram system and chartered busses. If the day lags at all, Dr. M. F. Grossman, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, will provide some impromptu diversion.

WILL BE A BIG FEED.

The meal to be given the transport troops and the crews of the Bennington and Charleston on the grounds of the Executive building today will doubtless excel in proportions in the feast line the loan given by Kamehameha I. upon winning victory over the Oahu warriors. Preparations have been under way nearly a fortnight. Capt. Ashley is in charge, with Sergt. Chapman as his right hand man. In this function the committee of ladies, with Mrs. C. B. Cooper at the head, will be strong. This is part of the bill of fare:

Potato salad—one ton.
Roast beef—2500 pounds.
Roast mutton.
Milk—300 gallons.
Turkeys.
Ham sandwiches—10,000.
Chickens.

Coffee—150 pounds equals gallons—
Pineapples—800.
Watermelons—800.
Mangoes—20,000.
Oranges—5000.
Various meats.
Bread and butter.
Etc., Etc., Etc.
Cigars and cigarettes.
Sodawater and ginger ale—12,000 bottles.
Etc., Etc., Etc.
Pie—2000.
Cake—20 bushels.

The dinner will be a good one, with lots of it. Tables will be spread, but there will be no seats. The troops will come to the grounds in column of fours, and if necessary will be carried away in stretchers.

COLORS OF THE FIRST.

Company B is the color company of the First Regiment, N. G. C., Col. Jas. F. Smith, says the Examiner, and Sergeant Taylor is the man to whom has fallen the honor of carrying Old Glory. The sergeant is a fine, handsome looking fellow, who gave up a fine position to go with his regiment to fight the enemies of his country.

When the men were "at rest" on the Mail dock, a little woman made her way through the crowd to where the big man was standing. It was the sergeant's wife. The meeting was a tender one, and the color bearer stood, supporting his wife with his right arm, while he held firmly with his left hand to the beautiful silken flag, the gift of the Chamber of Commerce to the regiment. The little woman was trying to be brave—she was brave.

The two had little time for the exchange of confidences, for the sergeant is well known and many friends crowded around to say good-bye. And so when the bugle sounded attention, they who had so much to say to each other, had said scarcely anything. The time for parting had come and—well, it was one similar to many a parting that day, but the little woman showed the stuff of which she was made. She loved her husband well, but she loved her country, too, with all the patriotism of the loyal woman of '76.

"Be careful of yourself, Charlie!" she said through her sobs. And when she had kissed him, she grasped the flag with both hands and kissed it with fervor.

"And be careful of this," she said. The sergeant made no answer; the folds of the silken banner slipped through her fingers, and when she looked up her husband had passed on board the Peking.

PRIVATE BRAD. THOMPSON.

One of the crack companies of the First is Company B. It is made up of the old City Guard, a company famous for the men who have turned out from its ranks. In the old days the City Guard, says a San Francisco writer, was noted for its hospitality and for its social functions.

When war was declared many of the old-timers hastened to enlist in their old company. In the ranks are some well fellows, and the company has already been dubbed Dandy B.

Bradford Thompson is one of those who enlisted when troubles times came, and he is now in quarters on the Peking. In the exclusive circles of society no man was better known than "Brad" Thompson. In all circles no man was better liked. He is a Marylander by birth and came west many years ago. He was immediately taken up by the best of society and soon became one of its favorites.

CAN ENLIST HERE.

It was learned definitely last night that it is not impossible to join the United States forces here. The transports will carry away a number of men who have been in the Islands for some time. The regimental adjutants are the recruiting officers. When a man goes on one of the ships he is practically on American soil. If he is eligible and satisfactory and if there is a vacancy for him he can be enlisted. Two stowaways found on the City of Peking were enlisted into the Regiment aboard.

PRESS DINNER.

War Correspondents Entertained by Artist Vos.

Mr. Hubert Vos gave a dinner to the war correspondents from the States in his studio, Holani Pa, last night. There were present the following: Mr. Jones of the Associated Press, Mr. Sheridan of the Call-Herald, Mr. White of the Examiner-Journal, U. S. Consul Haywood, Mr. Armstrong, editor of the Advertiser; Mr. Logan, editor of the Bulletin; Mr. Norrie, editor of the Independent; Mr. Boeringer, artist for the Call-Herald; Mr. Braumersreuther, Navigator of the Charleston. The table was decorated with red, white and blue flowers, the colors under which the press representatives in whose honor the dinner was given, are now going forth to fight with the pen and it may be, the sword. The speeches of the evening were devoted to pleasant remarks on America and Hawaii and the spirit of friendliness that exists between the two countries. Sentiments of aloha for Hawaii were expressed by all the Americans present.

The barbers of the city were perhaps the busiest people yesterday. Hirsute appendages of seven days' growth were amputated right and left.

NOTES.

Ex-Detective Hammer is here. The Drill Shed is beautifully decorated.

The bungalow was swarming with visitors all day long.

The Bishop Museum was opened yesterday for the visitors.

All the tailors are busy filling orders for white duck suits.

The bluejackets on the Charleston were given shore leave yesterday.

A corps of divers were busy inspecting the Peking's bottom yesterday.

A good many of the men have taken a view of the city from Punchbowl.

A good many of the 14th Infantry officers are domiciled at the hotels.

Every man of the transport ships was ashore at some time yesterday.

Boatswain Glynn of the Charleston was ashore last night greeting friends.

Of all the men permitted ashore there were only about a dozen "stragglers."

The Stanford Students' Company on the Peking, are the liveliest lot on the voyage.

The regulars will be paid off tomorrow. They will probably receive two or three months' salary.

C. J. Weed, a recent graduate of the Oregon University, is among the Volunteers from that State.

The Fourteenth Infantry band gave a delightful concert at the Hawaiian hotel yesterday afternoon.

Manager Dillingham had about 200 excursionists over the road yesterday. A visit to Ewa mill was made.

The red, white and blue edition of the Advertiser was more popular with the invaders than the mango.

Each man has two changes of clothing. They were given leggings the day before arriving in Honolulu.

Circuit Judge Perry was particularly active in entertaining the visitors. He was down early with his survey.

Red, white and blue painted barrels containing ice water, are set at various parts of the Executive grounds.

A son of Lieutenant Elliott, navigator of the U. S. S. Baltimore and well known in Honolulu, is a soldier boy.

The officers who saw Pearl Harbor yesterday pronounce it very valuable property for Uncle Sam to own just at this time.

Alex. St. M. Mackintosh found four members of the old Oregon Rugby Football team, among the Oregon Volunteers.

The members of the Australia crew were about town yesterday greeting their many friends and relating Klondike experiences.

Some of the Boys in Blue are short on buttons and crossed guns. The bits of brass went over the sides to friends at San Francisco.

Thomas Spencer, grandson of Major Tom Spencer and nephew of Charles Spencer, formerly Minister of Interior, is with the troops.

Col. Fisher expects all members of the Regiment to attend during the feast in fatigue uniform, without leggings or side arms.

A large crowd of townspeople were interested spectators at the drill maneuvers of the California Volunteers at the Pacific Mail dock.

A number of the merchants have signified their intention of shutting up shop today during the ceremonies on the Government grounds.

There are several newspaper men enlisted among the California volunteers. Among them is R. H. Ross, of the Examiner-Journal staff.

One volunteer who resigned a good position to go to the front, said yesterday that it was worth all he had sacrificed to visit Honolulu alone.

Senator McCandless purchased ten thousand cigars for the Executive Committee yesterday and distributed them aboard the various ships.

There was a big crowd and music by St. Louis College band for J. Q. Wood's great free ball game. The Honolulu bested the Regiments, 9 to 7.

The Charleston and the three steamships will leave port some time Saturday. They will go direct to Manila and will probably keep pretty well bunched.

The Hawaiian Oregonians gave the club call to the Volunteers from that State while the Australia was getting alongside. The response was quick and hearty.

The Stanford boys were piloted about town in waggons by Will Soper, John Wilson, Frank Andrade, Leslie Scott and Olaf Sorenson, all Stanford men.

General Otis will be in command of the Second Brigade and General Wesley Merritt, who will command the entire expedition, will accompany the Third Brigade.

Capt. Houdlette and Chief Engineer Neimann of the Australia go to extremes. They have just come from the Klondike and are now en route to Manila to thaw out.

Charles Eagan, son of Colonel Eagan of the United States army, was a passenger on the City of Sydney. He left for his coffee ranch on Hawaii yesterday afternoon.

A. Nelson Adams, of Stockton, California, is the musical author of the California Volunteers. He has composed several marches in honor of the Philippine expedition.

The soldier boys drank soda water to their hearts' content at Hobron's yesterday. They were not allowed to pay for it. P. C. Jones and W. A. Kinney shared the expense.

Soldiers started with the expedition who never in their lives had pulled a trigger. They were given loading and firing practice from the sterns of the ships on the way down.

Live bullock to the number of a dozen brought by the City of Peking were taken to the slaughtering pens last evening. The dressed beef will be carried on in cold storage.

H. J. Nolte donated 1,000 cigars and 5,000 cigarettes to the soldier boys. Hollister & Co., Hobron Drug Company, Capt. F. B. McStocker and Wing Wo Chang also made contributions.

W. D. B. Dodson, a bright young newspaper man, is enlisted in the Oregon Regiment. He will send special stories to the Portland, Oregonian. Mr. Dodson is an old friend of Ed. Dekum.

The Oregon boys are being well looked after. Ned Adams and George Carter have turned their office over to them. Mr. Pearson has also established headquarters for them at the Hawaiian Cyclery.

A register for all the Oregonians is open at Ned Adams' office and the Hawaiian Cyclery. A report will be sent back to Oregon by the next mail. Mr. Pearson treated all comers to the use of bicycles.

The Senate and House had more than a quorum present yesterday. Both bodies adjourned and the law makers placed their desks containing Government stationery and stamps at the disposal of the boys.

The Island boys who are members of the expedition are eagerly sought after. They include Sam Widdfield, Lionel Jackson, Harry and Frank Turton, formerly of Lahaina, George Marshall and the Hammer brothers.

"Please give me some medicine," was the earnest request of a Boy in Blue in the Benson, Smith & Co. drug store last evening. Then he explained, "I've been eating 'them mingoos' all day and I feel mighty sick."

A goodly number of the enlisted men have means and drew here on letters of credit. One private is pointed out as worth $100,000 and another as quitting a $3,000 a year position. Scores left good places and established businesses.

Private Adams of the 14th U. S. A., is no stranger in Honolulu. He was formerly a sergeant in H. Company, N. G. H., and is said to be a credit to the First Regiment of the Islands. He enlisted with the regulars so soon as war was declared.

Brigadier General Anderson, who is in charge of the expedition is a most pleasant gentleman. He is vice-president of the National Society of the Sons of Revolution and president of the Oregon Society of Sons of Revolution.

Honolulu capital is liable to be attracted by the apparent certainty of a strong future demand for pie in Manila. The boys of the First California are challenge champion pie-eaters, while the Oregon boys say they could get along without anything else in the menu.

George P. Anderson is a private among the Oregon Volunteers. He resigned a professorship in the Wilamette University in Oregon to go to the front. Mr. Anderson is a brother-in-law of Frank McCandless, well known here.

Memorial Day was observed on board the Peking and Australia. Colonel James F. Smith delivered the oration before the California volunteers and naval men. Chaplain Gilbert, of Eugene, Ore., led the services on the Australia. Addresses were made by General Anderson of the Regulars and Colonel Summers of the Oregon Volunteers.

It is a fact worthy of note that there are among the soldiers from Oregon, men who, until very recently, were members of the Canada Mounted Police. They are hale, hearty fellows, used to roughing it and will undoubtedly do valuable service for the United States.

The crowds along the wharves yesterday were continuous from morning until night. Everyone was bent on seeing what they could of the Boys in Blue. When the City of Sydney hauled alongside the Oceanic wharf in the afternoon, that place was greatly crowded.

While the California troops were on the Executive building grounds yesterday morning, soda water and fruits were distributed to them. This favor was greatly appreciated. Every one seemed to wish to show hospitality to the Boys in Blue. Horses, carriages and bicycles were loaned to them for rides about the grounds and flowers were brought by the ladies for the purpose of decorating the soldiers.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are today its warmest friends. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaiian Islands.
